

EASTER EGG HUNTS

Before you do your Easter Egg Hunt, why not take a little while to create a masterpiece for the walls of the new Nightingale Hospital at London's Excel Centre?

They would love to decorate the walls with happy, colourful pictures by children. They need to be drawn on A4 paper so they can be laminated for infection control purposes. Once they're done, post them to:

Rainbows for Nightingale
59 Sutherland Grove
London SW18 5QP

EASTER EGG HUNTS

- Sort out eggs into colours and make sure each player has the same number to collect. Hide in house or garden in groups of colours so each player can find one egg in the same spot. Give each player a small tub to collect his/her eggs in. This is a great way of children helping each other.
- Create one large egg for each player from a different colour of card. Cut the card into equal numbers to make a jigsaw. Hide the jigsaw pieces in the house or garden. When all pieces are found the players must assemble their jigsaw eggs before collecting their prizes. Competitive but also good for the best puzzlers to help the others.
- Easter egg colour game players must find an item in the house or garden which is the corresponding colour to the egg they are trying to find. This game is great with mini eggs which come in a variety of colours.
- Treasure Map create a map of the house / garden, leading to various points which the players have to go to. At each point there is an action to be done or a riddle to solve. Once all the clues are gathered, they will spell out where the treasure is hidden.
- Treasure Hunt (see next page for sample clues) the first clue leads to the second clue and so on until the final clue. At that point you should have an envelope which leads the hunters to the treasure. Make sure there are the same number of eggs for each player and they know how many they should have!!

look and see.

a wis
Easter Fun	Easter Fun
To begin your search here's your first clue: look close to where you put your shoes.	Has the postman been? Let's look and see. No but there's a clue from me.
Easter	Easter Fun
Our bouncy friend the Easter Bunny has hidden the next clue where you keep your money.	Our bunny has a cute pink nose. The next clue is where you keep your clothes.
Easter Fun	Easter Fun
Oh my goodness, golly gosh, go and look where your clothes get washed.	I have 4 legs but cannot walk. You sit at me to use your fork.
Easter Fun	Easter Fun
I have hands but not arms, just a face. My hands move at a steady pace.	While you're searching here and there, look underneath a wooden chair.
Easter Fun	Easter Fun
Where do you think the next clue might be? A shady spot, come	Your last clue has secret powers. Find it beside some colourful flowers.

EASTER EGG HUNTS

